

Unit 2 Introductions

Ice Breakers Think of possible ice breakers for these situations:

1. (on a long flight from Japan to New York)

“ _____ ”

2. (meeting a new co-worker)

“ _____ ”

3. (guiding a lost foreigner to his/her hotel)

“ _____ ”

4. (meeting your future in-laws)

“ _____ ”

5. (meeting a prospective client)

“ _____ ”

Dialogues

Write up a dialogue for the following situations:

A: Frank: a businessman; very pessimistic and negative; tends to not be able to 'read the air'; is late for an appointment with Mr. Smith.

Sarah: a warm-hearted and cheerful person; Mr. Smith's receptionist; greets Frank when he enters the office

Sarah: _____

Frank: _____

Sarah: _____

Frank: _____

Sarah: _____

Frank: _____

Sarah: _____

Dialogues

Write up a dialogue for the following situations:

B: Timothy: a first year college student; tends to lack self-confidence; is late for a study session with Susan; overly apologetic

Susan: is a talkative and humorous person; tends to be quite blunt and straightforward

Timothy: _____

Susan: _____

Timothy: _____

Susan: _____

Timothy: _____

Susan: _____

Timothy: _____

